By now, I'm sure, the year of Brooks' sermon over Lincoln's remains has been pointed out as incorrect on page 56 of the Hall of Fame handbook (1865, not 1862). However, the way the paragraph is phrased, I can't tell if the sermon was given at Independence Hall or at Holy Trinity Church. Only one other source mentions this and it is said to have been given ~~at~~ Independence Hall. Since we go to press very soon, could you help us to clear this point up?
